WORLD BOOK DAY - THURSDAY 2 MARCH 2017

It's nearly that time of year when we celebrate World Book Day.

This is a fantastic opportunity to further promote the love of reading and books which is central to our learning here at Kirkby on Bain.

The children have decided that on the day (Thursday 2 March) we should come to school dressed as a favourite book character. In school lots of book centred activities will take place and the children will have lots of fun.

In addition to this we would like to hold a school book swap. If you would like to participate then all you need to do is donate a book that your child no longer wants. Please ensure that it is in good, clean condition. We will put a box outside for you put the book in - please feel free to donate more than one book if you wish; a great chance for a clear out! Our aim is to collect 100 or more books so every child can take a book home on World Book Day.

Please complete the slip below and attach to/put inside the donated book before putting it in the box (or place books in a bag with your slip if donating more than one book). Please ensure that your child understands that they won't get this book back but that another child will get enjoyment from reading it!

We look forward to this exciting day and thank you for your support.

Yours sincerely

Mrs Hodgson
